

Alba Sánchez González 4ºE
The Snowman

Once upon a time, a sunny day of winter in the town or highfield, the night before had snowed a lot and the streets or the neighborhood were covered in white clear snow.

The parents of the salt family, Teo and Judith, got up suddenly when they heard the shouts of their sons. They were excited because it hadn't snowed in the town for a long time.

The kids wanted to go to the street to play with the fresh snow, but their parents advised them first to have breakfast. The three crazy boys, Peter, Marco and Bryan ate all the biscuits and milk quickly and ran outside and started making a snowman, the parents liked the idea and joined them.

The children decorated the snowman with a lot of details. They created three big balls of snow, one for the legs, other for the torso and another for the head.

At the bottom they put a pair of shoes that the father used to wear for work. In the part of the torso, they colocated two sticks instead of arms, and in the stomach four black buttons. Around the neck they decided to put a colouring scarf, for an informal touch, and finally on the smaller snow ball for the head, a carrot to simulate the nose, two rocus for the eyes, and a log stick for the mouth.

The family saw the snowman and they thought that it was very simple, so they took a red top hat as the last touch of elegance.

The family was very excited, they wanted to play with the snowman all day, but the cold came quickly and Teo and Judith decided to spend the rest of the day at home with the warmth of the fire.

The light ended and therefore the night had arrived. Inside the house the family was getting ready for bed.

That night, it was the night of Santa, and he used to distribute presents in all the houses. When he arrived in the town of Highfield, he stepped in front of the Salt family's home, and he saw in the distance the snowman alone in the garden.

Santa approached the snowman and told him: -"What are you doing alone in the garden?"

Immediately Santa touched him with his magic finger and the iceman became alive.

Santa asked: -"What do you want to do now that you have life?"

Snowman answered: -"I want to meet the family that created me."

Santa, without any problem, granted him that wish, but it will only last one day.

A group of five teenagers appeared out of the blue. None of them liked Christmas and they ruined or destroyed any object related to it, as it happens with some crazy teenagers!

Santa continued on with his work around the houses, and the snowman stood still so they wouldn't discover that he was alive.

The group of teenagers who saw him from afar, decided to go and take a closer look.

When the teenagers realized that it was destroyed enough they ran away laughing wildly.

The snowman was broken and sad inside, and he began to think that all the humans were like those adolescents, even the family that had created him and now instead of wanting to know them, he wanted to ruin their Christmas.

He armed his plan: before the rose he broke into the house as he pretended and looked for the gifts that Santa had left them to hide them inside the fireplace so they weren't able to find them. Later he went to the kitchen and he ate all the food that he could find, and started to make noise.

The little son Marco, woke up to find where the noise came from and when he got to the kitchen, the child saw the snowman that he had created but now it seemed almost destroyed and he started to cry and shouted very loud. The iceman began to throw snowballs at the boy to make him shut up, but at that moment the whole family was already awake.

When they went down to the kitchen they found all the chaos and lack of control, THE KITCHEN WAS FULL OF SNOW!

The family tried to talk with the snowman but he didn't want to hear anyone, until one of the children, Peter, came up with the idea of restoring him as it was before, like a normal friendly snowman.

He accepted with fear and allowed them to clear him. The whole family began to collect clean snow to cover the dirt, they changed his trash can lid for his old red hat, they put their characteristic carrot to form the nose and finally they changed him the pair of shoes and the scarf for new ones.

When they finished their task he looked in the mirror and due to the excitement of seeing himself as he was before.

Snowman: -"I'm the luckiest snowman of the world, because I have this family".

He changed his idea and decided to give the gifts to the family, because it was Christmas Day when each one began to open their gifts, from out of nowhere, they saw that there was one for the snowman.

When he opened it and they saw that it was a bell to recognize him from the other snowman, Santa had left it for him, he knew everything that was going to happen.

In the end, the snowman's family told him that every year when it snowed they would recreate him, with his recognizable bell.

What nobody knew yet was that the bell was magic and the snowman would come to life every Christmas day.

END.