

The Lost Magic Deer

During one of the Christmas' journeys that did Santa Claus, he suddenly lost one of his eight magic reindeers because of the storm that he has got to. The storm was so big and strong that it broke his sleigh and he fell in Mostoles, Spain.

He fell in a field and lost consciousness. When he came to his mind, some farmers were holding medicines, and a soup that they made for him. Santa was lying on a small, not very comfortable, old bed and he could see his reindeers outside the house, waiting for him next to the broken sleigh. But he noticed something weird... and then understood that he had only 7 reindeers instead of 8! He stand up, drank the soup, thanked the farmers by giving them presents for helping him, and immediately started running to fix the sleigh. He used his magic to do so, and the sleigh was completely rebuilt. Santa ordered his reindeers to stay near the sleigh, while he will try to find the missing reindeer.

That's when this story really begins, a story about one of the eight Santa's reindeers that has been lost in a Spanish municipality named Mostoles.

The lost reindeer's name was Dancer, and as she came back to her mind in a trash container, she started remembering what happened to her and where are her sisters and Santa... When she got out of the trash container, she looked around to understand where she is located. She took some clothes from the trash container, and put them on as best as she could. The sweater had drawn Santa Claus, and her sisters, reindeers along with the sleigh. She looked at it and dropped a tear. She took a deep breath and started walking down the street. People were obviously very surprised seeing a reindeer walking down the street, so Dancer understood that her disguise is not working, so she turned into a toy shop and hid in a little toy house. She stayed there for a night, thinking what to do.

Meanwhile, Santa was looking for Dancer, and people were doing a lot of photos of him and were saying that he looked very similar to the real Santa Claus. That comments were very funny to Santa so he just smiled while he was walking between streets. Time passed but they couldn't find each other.

The next day

Both of them knew that they are late for bringing presents for everybody, so they went to "Pradillo" to pray in front of a very beautiful Christmas tree made of iron and lots of light bulbs. Both of them, prayed at the same time, for the same thing. To find and see each other again and to deliver the presents to the families that are waiting for them. Both Santa and Dancer wanted the same and as they stood up they saw each other and full of tears ran to hug each other once for a long time.

The Christmas was saved; they only needed to hurry a little to deliver all the presents before the end of the day. So, eventually they did it, and were happier than ever.
